Enrico Samuel Cunanan

My time spent here at VC will always be remembered. That is despite a memory that is not even capable of remembering what I have done for the past 3 hours. Imagine how amazing these past 5 years must have been in order for me to remember it all! And it is all your fault. That is right, you! You have been an integral part of shaping who I am; you, in particular, have contributed to my life experience. Especially you mom and dad. Without you, there would be no Rico Cunanan. I am thankful for everything.

Jason Dacayanan

After 5 years at VC, my final year has been the best. It has been a year full of memories that will forever be etched in my mind. These experiences have further developed me as an individual; however, I would not have learned anything from them without the help from those close to me, Thanks to God, through whom everything is possible and to my family for your patience and support. Teachers and friends, I am grateful for the guidance you have shown to me and for making each day more enjoyable.

Marco Paulo De Andrade

Wow! I cannot believe how fast these past five years have gone by. I guess it is true that time flies when your having fun. I could not have possibly survived high school without love and support from my family., Thanks to mom, dad & Walter for always standing by me and for giving me love and support when I needed it. Thanks to all my friends for giving me a reason to wake up and go to school, SF, GT, PN, and RC, I will never forget that night at the buffet. Good luck to all of Grad 2002. God Bless

Hector Stephan Diakow

My most prominent thanks is to the Almighty Father for his unconditional love throughout my life and my 5 years at VC. Love to my parents for their loving guidance and my sisters Pat and TL. Blessings to my teachers for sticking with me. To the long forgotten PAC: MoFo, JD, JM, SC, CS, JC, EY, and those helping me to not cheat the Man in the Mirror. To the hockey crew and tennis team and all the other pure sweet moments etched in my memory, I thank you. Grads of 2002: "He shoots, he scores."

Peter John MacRae

Vancouver College is an incredible place, and my 12 years here have been both rewarding and enjoyable. Rowing, band, and school have been at the centre of my life for the past six years and have taught me the values of hard work, determination and collaboration. I will carry these lessons with me as I joureny into the next phase of my life. Thank you to everyone who has helped me along the way; and to my fellow graduates, good luck. Mom, I Deicate This to You and You Only. I Love You Mommy.
"He laughed if the sun came out from behind a cloud, he laughed if they came upon a stream of spring: then he stooped and splashed his feet and head with water; he laughed sometimes at some sound or whisper in the trees. Whenever he saw a rowan-tree he halted a while with his arms stretched out, and sang, and swayed as he sang." -J.R.R Tolkien

Jonathan David Matthews

The time I spent at vancouver college has truly been inspirational and I thank all of the people who have helped me and support me throughout my time at Vancouver College. I would especially like to thank my family and friends who have had always been there for me and I hope that all of us can continue to experience the friendliness and joy that we have had at Vancouvewr College. Thank you and God Bless

Jovy Paolo Mayuga

It has been a long five years here at VC, and I could not have finished it without the support of friends, teachers,staff, and especially family. FM's: birds house, dances, parties, Canada Day with SW, DBL, RS and MB, and just general ruckus. Sports have played a huge part in my life here at VC, (swim team forever!). Finally, I will always carry with me the good times and many memories; and just remember, "it's not really a lie, if you believe it" - George Costanza

Thomas Michael Newton

Looks like this train has reached its final stop and it is time for me to get off. My 5 years here have been unforgettable, and for the good times and the bad, I thank you. I will never forget rowing (all the regattas, ever), the bad trips, my lunchtime shantytown, and crusing in the Volfsburg. Thanks to Mom & Dad, my teachers, my coaches (Bruce, Derek, & the Chris), all the friends I have met along the way (incl. SW & the crew), and Laura (the greatest gal around). Always remember to live a little.

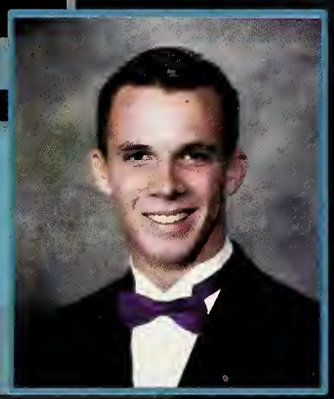
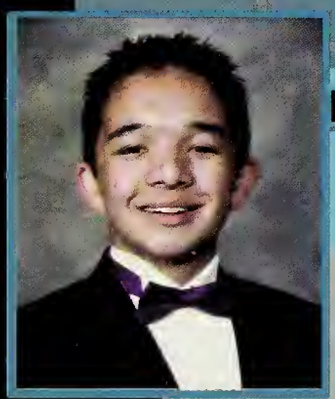
It seems like such a short time ago the class of 2002 walked into VC. I know that I will only start to appreciate my time here once I'm gone. My Mom and Dad along with my big sister Julia made my time at VC better than they'll ever know. EB, TN,DR, PM, AB, JP, JN, PM, LW, we got to remember each other! I will always remember my encounter. My thanks to all the teachers since I arrived. I can't imagine any other school that has teachers like the ones at VC. We leave here a better man.



Paul Christopher Parungao

It's over. Now I don't know what to say. I guess I could start by thanking my family and friends, thanks. Thanks go out to my teachers & everyone at this school that had a lasting effect on me. Thanks Bro, History 12 was the greatest. Memories: Duke trips, 50CC, tutioring, guitarting. Mr. Mustard's twisted lair. Good and bad memories will fill me every time I look back at this school. It's been emotional. Five years of my life attending Vancouver College shot by just like that. I'll miss VC.



Jonathan Michael Phang

Dear Reader,
VC has been great since 1990 when I arrived in Grade 1. Thanks to GOD, family, teachers and coaches. My FM"s are GODSPELL, WIZ,BBall, FBall. It was all good. The Vogue was cool. Players, thanks for the warm welcome. BBAll at lunch was sweet and so was when we just chilled. Shouts out to all my friends and louder shouts to Reeks, Pete, Engo, Chucks, Jdac for all the help and friendship. KF, JC: you guys are the best. "HELLO WORLD! Here I come." Sincerely, Jon Phang

Dominic Carion Pilapil

My 5 year journey is complete. Thanks to God for His guidance and protection. Thanks to Mom, Papa, and Colonel. I love you all. To Nanay, Lolo and Lola, thanks for the love nad support. Pleasure or pain, I cherish the memories that I have gained. Thanks to my parents for instilling faith in me and to my brother and sisters who have been there through all the strife. Much love to all my friends who have helped me along the way, I am not writing your initials down here but I will thank you antoher day. Also, I would like to thank the teachers for providing their care and knowledge. Yep, well that is it, see you later, I am off to college.

Adrian Jeffrey-King Tangsoc

VC was great. I love you mama! Family love also goes to Char, Al & Al., to my buddies, 500 letters is not enough. The summers, all the gigs (2). Cuttlefish going down, skateboarding at 2am, movie nights, SHEERISHLY, the concerts, frigid sleepovers, golden gods unite, all nighters, those parties that are like...double parties, and snowball lights in parking lots. See you in Richmond. Good luck guys. "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorn for SEga." Brodie

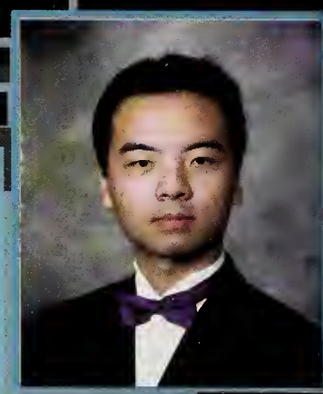
Henry Tzu Hsiang Wen

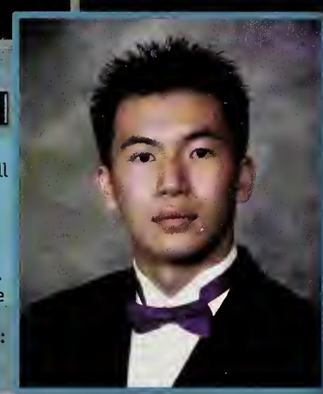


Hi, this is my 4th year at VC. I just want to thank all my teachers and my friends for the memories they have given to me. Time sure went fast, I hoped time would be longer, so we could have fun like always. Unfortunately, life has to move on. Therefore, I will never forget all of what you people have done for me. Thank you all once again.

Mark David Wilkie

It is about trying your best in the hope of one day being the best. In order to be the best one must endure the worst. For this reason I have used these past four years to redirect my life onto the toughest route possible. And I know that it can be done because I've done it. I know what it feels like to win, to win on the track, to win in life. It is one of the best feelings in the world, and I owe it to those who see me every day. Thank you Mom and Dad for supporting me in whatever I believe is possible. Heather, Kevin, you gave me the reason to keep doing what I do best.

Andrew Shek Hong Wong



12 years have gone by already. It seems like yesterday that I stepped into VC and was as tall as the door handles. Now it is over and we move on into a new life. Thanks to my mom and dad for putting up with me and thanks to my bro for being there always. Props to the Seaquam crew and DT chicks CTx2, RH, AW, BJ, NC, ECx2, HO, JL, DT, ST, WWW, CY, EW and the alley. "Friends will come and go, but your Brothers are there for life." How long has it been since I first stepped into the school in full uniform, running to my first class? It has been 5 years full of wonderous memories. The times eating lunch outside on the bleachers and under the band room seem to be a millenia ago. I thank God, parents, aunt, grandma, teachers frends AC, PM, JM, CT, MC, DB, DR, AN, PP, TN, JP, the yearbook crew, and SS project group all whom have made my experiences here at VC perfect for going anywhere I want.

Calvin Jonathan Yu

It is hard to fit 11 years of memories into a write-up. The first day at VC, I knew nobody but soon I made incredible friends. Thanks to SW, AW, JM, CT, AT, MF, JP for being my friends all these years. I thank my Mom and Dad for sending me to this school and to my aunts, uncles and cousins for their continuing support. I have made many unique friends and memories that cannot be forgotten. Thanks friends RT, SC,C, EC,NC,JL, RH,LCEW, A WEN, HW, HE ETC. Well it is time to say Bay. T.T.

Life is not a destination, but a journey. Vancouver College and the twelve years that we, the tewlve year men, have spent here are a testament to this statement. Being more than a school, more that a mode of learning, Vancouver Colege has been a place for our twelve year journey together. We have endured the trials and tribulations of elementary, middle, and senior school, not always as best friends, but always in solidarity. Vancouver College has given us the oppurtunity to be a part of a strong community devoted to learning and faith. We have contributed in unique ways to its composition, and we carry small memories of it with us everyday. Vancouver College lives within each of us, not merely because of the number of years we have spent here, but because we have travelled together and learned along the way. Since grade one, with Miss Seppelt in her first year as a teacher at Vancouver College, we have learned not only to be scholars, but also citizens of the world. Having grown up together we can now see , relflected in one another, the potential of the Vancouver College experience to change lives. As we continue on the journey that is life, we take part of our strength and will, all that our school has given us. We know, too, that we have each, along with generations of other students, teachers, and brothers, created the rich and durable fabric that is Vancouver College. Semper Fidelis.

Similar to adults who enjoy recollecting and talking about their early life, it is for us a delight to reminisce about the occurences of the past. The vivid memories of carefree elementary, to the last and final days of stressful high school will forever linger in our heads. So much has taken place, and so much more will come. The future is a boundless and unpredictable part of our life. There will never be a time when we will know for certain what is that we are destined to be. The path that each one of us choose to follow after our completion and departure from high-school, will either lead us to the truth that our heart and mind craves for, or throw us into a transitory state of confusion. The world is an immense bank of information. Nevertheless, this knowledge must be gained through experience, reasoning, and questioning. The answers to the questions that we search for are not always straightfoward like "basic math problems." Some require a great deal of time, and vigilant assessment before we can fully comprehend them. Others possses such an elevated degree of complexity that years of studying done by the most sagacious people would not even be adequate to provide an elucidation. The idea of accomplishing what we have to do and fulfilling our dreams, remain a mystery waiting to unfold.

As the days and weeks pass by, brining all one-step closer to graduation, the community of teachers, students, and administrators at Vancouver College experience a greater sense of apprehension. In the restless heads of the older students are many questions as to, "Where am I going to go after high school and what am I going to do?" On the other hand, teachers and administrators are busily asking themselves what they can do to shape the students under their tutelage, into mature young men ready for the challenges of the world. "How to be the best I can be," is the query in everyone's head. At Vancouver College, not only the students but also teachers, and administrators endeavor a higher degree of excellence. How this will ultimately come out is a question that only time can answer. The constant questioning of ourselves as to how we will play our part, and attain what we want, serves as a medium that gradually brings us to that which we are destined for. The future is broad and full of possibilities. Some of us will leave high school knowing what is that we want to be and do, but the majority will not. In spite of this, all of us will step into the world full of determination and hope. With these two things in mind and faith in God, nothing will be impossible.

GRADE 10

Amidst the blooming flowers and a cool summer breeze emerges a group of young men coming into their own. With another year under our belts and two short years to go, grade 10 has marked our greatest challenge yet. As we begin to grow up leave the gray flannels and purple cardigans behind us; a new sense of leadership and importance is laid upon our shoulders. In retrospect, grade 10 can be summarized in three simple words not enough time. Monday to Friday, the day must be seized. Early mornings in the band room, late football practices in the dusk, shooting three pointers in the gym and getting' our groove on at the dances has left us with memories too strong to forget. As our days of wandering the Vancouver College halls pass us by, a greater comfort is acquired. For grade 10 has allowed us to take more than the sprained ankles and frayed jerseys home off the field. It has given us an honor of representing the prestigious Fighting Irish namesake in more than just athletic and extra curricular activities, but in all aspects of life. We are proud of our school. Through this group of fine young men, three words emerge above all the rest the most meaningful and the most sacred. True Irish Pride. To the challenges that lie ahead, together we march towards a common goal as more than a group of boys, but as a single unstoppable unit. We will not be overtaken, for we are the Fighting Irish. Semper Fidelis.

Middle School

Middle School is a time of beginnings for many students. They begin their high school journey in Grade 7 or 8. Many walk down the hallways of Vancouver College for the first time. In this part of their journey through life, they witness immense physical, emotional, and spiritual changes. Becoming experienced and well rounded young men talented in athletics and academics, the students of the Middle School are adventurers on the journey of learning.

Searching for answers these young men experience growth in many ways. They begin to find the answers to which direction their lives are heading. In many ways Middle School at Vancouver College helps these young men find clarity as to what they would want to be in the future. Through the stress of being young men, they strive to find answers to their lives with the help of the teachers, parents and seniors of Vancouver College.

Grade 8

the [illegible] would be another [illegible] school year. I knew only a few people in the older grades. After the first [illegible] it became apparent that [illegible] would not be an easy task. It seemed as though everyone knew someone else from previous years at school. For me, I did not have this convenience. I came from a public school and all [illegible] went on to public high school as the year wore on I started making new acquaintances with new people, and for that I was grateful.

One thing that [illegible] Grade 8 was the way the week was laid out. I liked the fact that each student had different teachers for different subjects so that if one were weak in one class, one could look forward to another class. Another aspect of middle school life I enjoyed was taking the bus everyday. Living two blocks from my elementary school, going to school [illegible] from home gave me a sense of freedom. This year, being here also gave me the opportunity to meet and interact with people from different grades and other schools. Being in Grade 8, the most important aspect I noticed about community life here was that I could feel good with myself and that one could express themselves without the judgement of others. Sports and athletics are a big part of the school and a big part of me. Football at Vancouver College amazed me in that it affected me deeply. These aspects of Vancouver College community life influence every [illegible] of the school. In all, coming into Grade [illegible] an [illegible] for me, [illegible] other students. But now that the year has settled into a routine, school this year has become very [illegible]

A whole year of [illegible] finished. Oh, sorry, did I mention [illegible] had in our first year in middle school? From our very first outdoor [illegible] and [illegible] the pranks incorporated along with it, to dumpster diving in Environment Club, Grade Seven is a year to always remember.

What fun we enjoyed getting out at least almost every Wednesday, and getting to torture our elementary friends. And how about volleyball, in which we won three games, and yet boosted our win percentage by 300% from the previous year (yes, we were the lovable losers.)

Tempus Fugit. Oh how time flies. What seemed like September 4th yesterday, is now... Summer! Yeak! I was just reminiscing the past year, how much we accomplished this past school year. Fast facts: less than ten people made it on the first term Honour Roll! [illegible] created our very own newspaper, 7-1 [illegible] broke the record for class parties in [illegible] created the B.I.G. Tutorial System, and 7-2 did [illegible] everything else.

The teachers were great [illegible] made the hardest subjects fun [illegible] made the more intellectual (and boring) ones a pun. (Ha Ha Ha!) Mr. Penn gave all a shock (remember the time [illegible] us push-ups?) and Mr. Bernet [illegible] those great computer periods [illegible]. Mr. bell on the contrary, redefined the meaning to "Journalism Class", where Mr. Olson prevented anyone in [illegible] from blowing the blues. Mr. Budai taught us lessons we shall never forget, (non [illegible] pas d'accord, D'apres moi [illegible] est meilleure dans le tennis que Venus.) and then there is Mr. DesLauriers, watching over us like a vulture, making sure we weren't not be doing any mischief.

If only I had the [illegible] to do everything all over again, I would do things differently, maybe [illegible] the science test, oh, I [illegible] but at the same time I have [illegible] to look forward to. New friends next year and a whole 8 weeks of fun ahead of me.

The staff of Vancouver College is the driving force behind all the school. They donate their time and effort, and essentially their lives for the benefit and betterment of the school community and its members. They take personal pride in their own success, measured by every student that walks across the graduation stage, every goal that is scored at a school game, and every smile that is shared in the classroom. The hard work and perseverance of each staff member at Vancouver College contributes to the everyday victories won within our closely knit community.

LOUNGE

Principal's Message

Dear Gentlemen of Vancouver College,

I am honored to address you through the medium of this outstanding publication. I know I speak for all who count themselves as members of our Vancouver College Faith and Learning Community, when I say congratulations and the thank you to the Collegian staff and their moderator, Ms. Klaudia Zapala. Through their work and dedication they have deepened our love for this community.

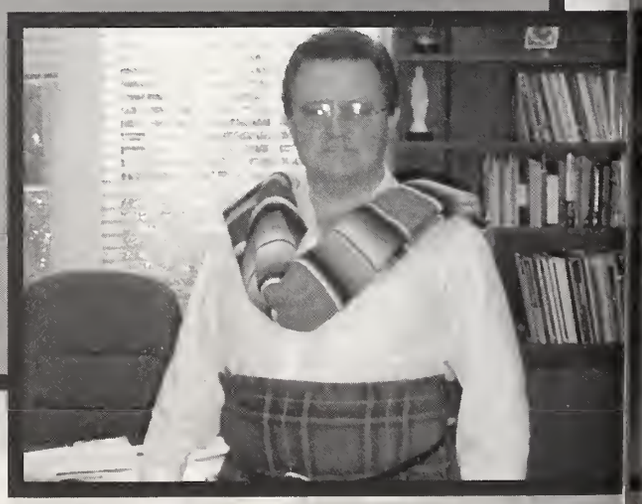
September 11, 2001 was a day of terror for many people. The events in New York City, Washington, DC. and Pennsylvania and their subsequent reverberation in Afghanistan have shifted the dynamic of international relations for better or for worse. So many lessons and parallels can be drawn by us from these horrific events. Perhaps chief among these lessons is the need for knowledge and understanding in order to grow in mutual respect. Our Holy Father, Pope John Paul II, echoes the teaching of Pope Paul IV...' there can be no peace without justice!' However, Pope John Paul II goes a step further and adds...."there can be no justice without forgiveness and reconciliation!"

To our Vancouver College Graduates of 2002 I say, never give up the quest for peace, justice and reconciliation. You have given and shared so much during your years at Vancouver College and we are all better for it. Your growth in academic achievements, in faith sharing, and in personal growth, is a source of joy and hope for your parents, your family and for all of us who care deeply for you. You have grown through your senior year and have renewed our confidence and our faith in you. I say with simplicity and genuine respect, thank you and congratulations! Remember your time at Vancouver College...be loyal. By the example of your lives go out there and teach peace, practice justice, and embraced reconcilitaion as a way of life.

To those Vancouver College young men who are returning to continue their education, I say you have yet again made the right choice. Achieve to the best of your ability for such is excellence. Remain focused, be disciplined, seek help, give help and live the pride of Vancouver College. Your teachers, administrators, support staff, family and friends are with you and for you. You are not alone, take up the challenges.

Finally, I conclude with a note to staff and to our parents. The challenges that your students and sons face are also your challenges. Let us all be self-defined and let us proceed withour understanding of excellence as achieving to the best of one's ability. Our ministry of service to the boys of Vancouver College is not always easy. However, Jesus, Our Brother, assures us that love makes it easy and perfect love makes it a joy! Semper Fidelis!

Brother Anthony Murphy, cfc
Principal



"Unless you try to do something beyond what you have already mastered, you will never grow." - Ben Franklin

In order for a school to function as it should it must be far more than the material aspects of the building. A school must also be a place where minds can be opened to learning, where students are allowed to grow, and where knowledge may flourish. All students have gifts, and are gifts. When given the chance, they all have the potential to contribute. They are not an interruption of our work, but rather the purpose of it. Teachers are the front line messengers and leaders for all that we must do, while students are the life blood of each and every school. The positive interaction between students and teachers is fundamental to the existence and success of any school.

Our society needs schools that challenge students to do their best academically and otherwise, so as to motivate them to live their lives with integrity, which teach them to make life choices intelligently, and which encourage them to discover everything that they are and can be. Students can do extraordinary things when they are loved and respected and are allowed to actualize. For many of them, actualization is being given opportunities to contribute. At Vancouver College, the intent is to provide an environment in which students can grow in wisdom and age and grace before God and others...as a faith and learning community. Our sincere hope is for all of our students to first recognize the value of such an environment and, then, utilize it to the best of their abilites.

"Wisdom is knowing which path to take next....integrity is taking it."

Mr. Roger DesLauriers, Senior School Principal

It is hard to believe that another year has passed on (my third at Vancouver College). My job as Assistant Principal is a hectic one but certainly made easier by the encouragement and support of parents, colleagues, and students. I am truly grateful and blessed to be associated with a community that believes in and practices the Gospel message every day. We are, as Bro. Murphy announces every morning, a "faith and learning community.'

As you go through this fantastic publication of the Yearbook, I hope you realize how fortunate you are to be associated with Vancouver College. Don't ever take your opportunity to be a part this community for granted. The Grads of 2002, will tell you that their high school years went by in an instant. They will also tell you how important it is to get involved and be a positive contributor to the Vancouver College community. Take note of that advice, and make your years at Vancouver College memorable ones.

Take time to thank those who made it possible for to be a part of this community, particularly your parents and teachers. Don't forget in your prayers to thank God each day for blessing you with so much. Make sure you put this Yearbook in a special place as it will provide you with so many fond memories of your years at Vancouver College.

Mr. Mich DesLauriers, Middle School Principal

G.B. Trudeau, creator of the cartoon Doonsbury, had a dream of becoming a successful cartoonist. Each day, ten times a day, he would write down "I will be a successful cartoonist." He wanted to ensure that his dream became reality and that his focus never wavered from his goal. To his credit, his daily cartoon is carried in papers all over the world.

Our dreams, unfortunately, do not often become our reality. The dreams become clouded in self-doubt, the limitations become too real, and we listen to those around us who say that we will never be able to attain our dreams. Keep your goal focussed in your mind and in your daily activities. What are you doing each day to ensure that you are getting closer to your dream?

Some of the grade twelve students who are currently graduating were in my grade one class when they first arrived at Vancouver College. They were filled with dreams of becming astronauts, doctors, hockey players, and more. While life experiences have shifted their innocent grade one plans, I hope they hang on to the fact that they may achieve anything on which they set their mind.

Athletics are an integral part of the personal success of each student at Vancouver College. Because of the enthusiasm of both students and staff, Vancouver College has maintained a reputation for excellence in the athletic programs, including football, basketball, rowing, tennis, wrestling, track and field, swimming, and soccer. Members of the staff donate their time and effort because of their faith in the students, as well as for their desire to improve the school community. The success of the programs are not measured merely by the scores of the stat sheet, but also in the enthusiasm and pride of the students. Athletic programs enable students to make a personal mark at Vancouver College. Each member of athletics is a testimony to the benefits of exercise and involvement in community life — the characteristics of Athletics at Vancouver College.

Football at Vancouver College is much more than just an extra-curricular activity. It is a place where young men of all different backgrounds and interests can come together and work towards one common goal. This year we had a very successful season going 8-4, reaching the Provincial Championship game, and having five of our players recognized as Provincial All-Stars. The memories that this year's players will take away from the season go far beyond the confines of O'Hagan Field. We will remember hanging out in the bunker, risking our lives each day crossing 41st to get to practice, joining with family and friends at post game receptions, and most importantly, the friendships we have made will last a life time. On behalf of the team I would like to thank all our coaches and the entire Vancouver College school community for their tremendous support throughout the season. Once again thanks to Rick Gazzola who gave up countless hours to paint the field, look after our wounded, take care of the bunker, and above all be a great friend to all of us. The school spirit this year (Pep-rallys, Junior Captains, Purple & Gold Day etc.) was remarkable and I am sure it will only continue to get stronger. Last year the semi's. ..this year the finals. ..Champions 2002? Semper Fidelis!

Basketball

During the time that this summary is being written, the Vancouver College Varsity Basketball Team is involved at the BC 2002 Provincial Championships. It was a rough road to get there, but in proper Fighting Irish fashion, we persevered and did our best to achieve our goals. We had our fair share of unseen challenges along the way: injuries that prevented two of our teammates from playing for most of the season, losing another one of teammates late in the season, and unexpected illness during the Lower Mainland and Provincial Championships. The team had a slow start during the beginning of the season, at one point having a 4-9 game record. But by the end of the Lower Mainland Tournament, the team managed to finish with an impressive 21-16 game record. Highlights of the season include our one point 83-82 victory over Templeton, and defeating St. Georges 77-71 to acquire the 3rd place ranking in the Lower Mainland Tournament. We couldn't have made it as far as we have without the support and help of the managers, parents, and fans. And now we must continue as the Fighting Irish as we play this week in the BC Provincials, and work our hardest to make our school proud.

Mr. Penn

Four long but quick years have passed and many faces came and went. Some stayed for a while while other only for a moment. Many changes I have experienced from wrestling from the time when I looked up to the older men to the time when I am now being looked up to. Success and failure are part of wrestling and of everything in life and I have experienced both. I have cried due to defeat and to victory. Sweat, blood, and crooked ears have been given off and seen. But the most important of all is the friendship that has been made either with my teammates or with my opponents. The opportunity to be part of this wrestling team is a great experience. I cannot improve on my own. Advice and support from both the coaches and the teammates are essential for becoming a better wrestler.

Although this season has been a weird one because of the teacher's strike, many have worked hard and more have made it to the provincials this year than the previous year. Thanks to the coaches, Mr. "Chauffeur" Anderson, Mr. "Take a Lap" Penn, and Joe "the Mailman" Yee, for their great support and wonderful training, both fun and tough. All will be remembered. This wrestling team is a team and I have seen great future in many members of this team, in both the veteran ones and the young and new ones.

Coach Davenport

Coach Penn

Coach O' Loughlin

From the hard, black, asphalt track of Irish home turf to the massive stands of Swangard Stadium in the final heats of Provincial competition, this team has succeeded. With strong leadership by the team captain and rising stars like Jeremy Gossa, Calen Nixon, and Patrick Smith, this year's track and field team demonstrated what it takes to be a champion. The greatest aspect of this team was the large amount of goal oriented athletes who were realistic and dedicated to their goals in each event, all in the hope of returning the Provincial Crown to Vancouver College. Irish track has been known for its tremendous successes in the past and this motivation enabled the boys to continue the long standing tradition of victory. It was by pure strength and determination, combined with the inspiration of Coach Penn, that the track stars of Vancouver College shocked the Province once again.

Rowing

Junior A Heavy Weight

Rowing is a sport based on the cooperation of many. In that spirit, we succeed together, swiftly gliding through the water, stroking into the deep blue plane as one. This rowing season has yielded a great challenge but also exceptional performances from very talented individuals. We would like to acknowledge each member of the team, for their perseverance through the daily 2-hour workouts, raw behinds, torn up hands, no days off, and rainy morning practices. However, more importantly, we would like to show our deepest gratitude to our biggest supporters: our coaches, our parents, and other well wishers. Rowing is about guts, and you have taught us that in your own commitment, to us, and we thank you. The experiences you have bestowed on us will last through our entire life times. Good luck to the rowing team and their coaches in the coming year.

The 2001-2002 golf season has been a rewarding experience for both the young and returning golfers. Those who joined this year were offered a challenging experience and had a remarkable season. Due to the contributions of talented individuals, we were able to have fun, as well as grow as golfers and as athletic competitors. We would like to acknowledge with special mention our faithful coach, Mr. Olson, who enabled us to have the joy of a successful season this year. The effort of our coach and athletes has truly expressed the spirit of Vancouver College, the Fighting Irish.

Cross Country

This is not the first time it has been said, nor will it be the last. VC has a running history unlike that of any other school. While good runners come, and go, Irish cross has continued to remain strong for many years. This one was no different. The boys this year managed to gain the momentum from past successes to bring home the gold for the second time since the Irish running boom in 2000. The team was lead by captain, Mark Wilkie, who has great expectations for similar results corning from Calen Nixon, Dan Couzelis, Kyle Hol, Kevin Baldwinson, Thomas Miller, and Paul Curran. And with many strong juniors corning up next year, we look to remain strong. Together, this team proved to themselves and to the Province that Irish Cross Country should never be underestimated. Coach Gord Penn has had enough experience with the team to tell you that.

Swimming

Provincial Champions

The Irish proved to be very successful at the 2001 B.C. High School Provincial Swim Championships. Individual and team success dominated the November weekend at Richmond's Watermania Aquatic Complex. Heralded individual performances include Aaron Kwok in the backstroke event and Inaki Gomez in the Individual Medley.

The true testaments of the Championships were the relay events. The Irish lead the charge with first place showings in the Friday heats in both the Medley and Free Relays. Ranked first going into the finals, the Irish prevailed triumphant in the Saturday morning championship final to take home gold in the 200 m. Medley Relay. With half of the test completed, the stage was set again later that day for the Free Relay Final. The Irish, which was composed of Anthony Sy, Ricky Murphy, Scott Woron, and Dean Ben-Lyazid, had the opportunity to do what no other team in B.C. had done for twenty-two years: break Hope Secondary School's Provincial Record which had stood since 1979. In a heroic effort, the Irish came from behind to take gold in the 200 m. Free Relay and rewrite the Provincial Record Books. Hard work and determination overcame all obstacles for the 2001 Provincial Champions.

Thanks go out to Mrs. Schwandt, Br. O'Loughlin, and Mr. R. DesLauriers and everyone who cheered us on for giving us this opportunity to let our IRISH pride shine. Semper Fidelis.

Organizations

Outside the classroom are the organizations of Vancouver College which contribute to the spirit of its community. Organizations give the students an opportunity to join with other students who all share a common interest and share their views and experiences. They also give students the opportunity to donate their time and give back to the community by improving it and making it better. Participation is the main trait involved in joining an organization. They demand a great deal of time and commitment. But the results are rewarding. There are too many to choose, but whatever choice you make, they are all worth the effort.

Council

The members of Student Council have the difficult task of representing the interests of the entire student body of Vancouver College, and through hard work and dedication, they have once again done an excellent job. This year, Vancouver College's Executive Student Council consists of 12 representatives, 4 from each of the senior school grades. These individuals all did their part in the "behind the scenes" work involved in Student Council led activities. Our weekly meetings involved the discussion of student issues, as well as the organization of events for the students of Vancouver College. This year our major activities included the Welcoming Barbeque, school dances, candygrams, Student Council sponsored speakers, and other activities for the student body's enjoyment. Many of these events proved to be more difficult to organize than we had ever expected, but the success of these events can be attributed to the hard work and perseverance of each of the Council Members. Soon the responsibility will be passed on to a new batch of representatives, who will be responsible for carrying on the tradition for next year. We have all the faith that you will make us proud and we wish you all the best.

Edmundians

In the halls of Vancouver College roam the Edmundians, an organization composed of individuals eager to emulate the philosophy and spirit of Blessed Edmund Rice.

The Edmundians are dedicated to sacrificing countless hours to the betterment of the school environment. Under the guidance of Brother Newman, the Edmundians strive to strengthen the community through their wide range of involvement. Throughout the school year, the Edmundians are involved in school liturgies, retreats, open house, and entrance exam. These events provide the group's committed members an opportunity to facilitate the needs of their peers, to leave their mark at Vancouver College, but more importantly, to exemplify the message of love and service of our Lord Jesus.

With every passing year, the varsity members of this unique organization are replaced by a new group of eager individuals. Through their enthusiasm and leadership the Edmundians will remain "Semper Fidelis" to the strengthening of the Vancouver College Community.

The Voice

In the Senior Library's Journalism Lab, 22 young journalists flock about, scrambling to complete their latest articles in time for publication of what would be the next issue of "The Voice", Vancouver College's school newspaper.

The smallest Journalism 12 class as of late, the twenty-two journalists of "The Voice" all have different views in trying to entertain the school community. Under the guidance of their editor-in-chief Mr. Randy Duggan, these journalists transform their views into stunning articles for the paper. From the humorous articles to the serious articles; from the current events, such as Encounter, to leisure, to the sports, such as Irishman, our views are presented to classmates, teachers, friends, or parents. We make them laugh, cry, and think about our views on issues that happen around the school.

You might think it's easy publishing "Voice" after "Voice" each month. It isn't. 9/11 changed everything. That's why our writing styles differ a lot from our "Voice" predecessors. Many times, we type up our articles, read them, and re-read them in order to find mistakes. Then there are the deadlines we have to meet. We work throughout the week, even during the weekends, just to put everything together. And all to publish one school paper for the community to enjoy, one paper to bring a community together. And when all is said and done, and these twenty-two journalists make way for the next batch of journalists, we'll put a smile on our faces and say that we accomplished everything we could to bring our school community together. Because though we'll all be in different places next year, we'll still be a part of that one big community.

One community, with one "Voice".

Take care.

Eugene Calvez

Name: Eugene Calvez
Mission: Finish the yearbook
Motto: "Refuse to lose!!!", "For Aiur"
Time: 3am

Ok I lost my other write-up and now I am re-doing it on the day of our deadline. The time is currently 11:51am on Friday March 15, 2002. We are still a few pages behind and we left the school at 12am the night before. I had only 4 hours of sleep and barely holding onto sanity. What I am looking forward to is getting much needed sleep... wait ...what is sleep? It has been stricken from my vocabulary. Without the help of my fellow editors, which I am proud to call my friends, this would have been a tremendous task. Thanks to Chris for listening to all my burns about him, thanks to Albert for being on my side and helping burn Chris, thanks to Henry for doing everything I did not know how to do, thanks to Cameron for finally showing up in the end, thanks to Carlo for going out on the boat for rowing pictures, thanks to James for pointing out my lack of knowledge in speellling and to everyone else!!! THANK YOU! These seven months have past us by very fast. It just seemed like yesterday that we were at yearbook camp learning how to spin around on chairs and talking to girls. My advice to the heroic men who choose to accept this task next year is FINISH YOUR DEADLINES. Never rely on anyone to get the work done, "If you want it done right, do it yourself." Do not rely on these computers, they have failed us numerous times and caused much unwanted stress and anguish. Looking back on this I have no regrets on joining the yearbook team. It is an unforgettable experience that I will always remember.

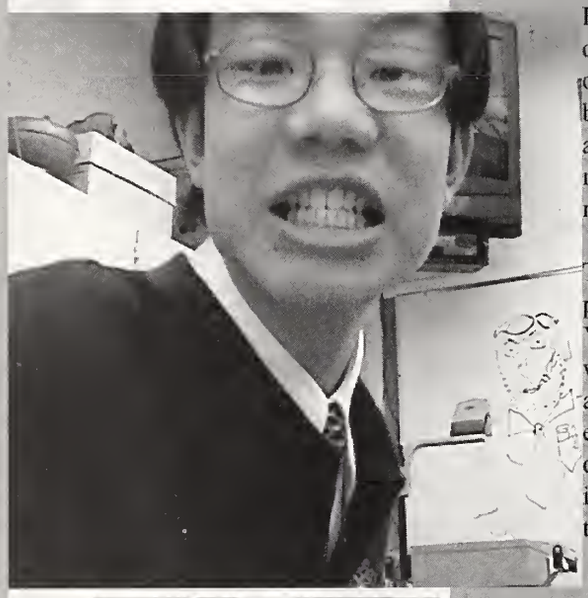
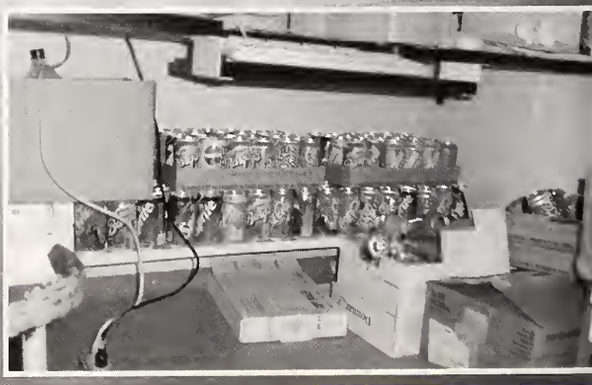
Editor's Log: Date: Unknown, Place: Unknown, Time: 3:15am

I'm tired and hungry on this seemingly unending journey of Yearbook but I know the end is near. I'm completely lost in this tiny room with my five other companions on this Journey. Within a matter of hours the once clean and tidy room looks as if a whirlwind swept through it. From cover to cover we have traveled endlessly in the realms of our imaginations searching for the perfect inspiration for the layouts. We have surely lost our way sometimes trying to find the answers to our questions but every time we make it through producing this beautiful piece of art work called "The Collegian". These 7 months have passed us by far too quickly. Starting out with Yearbook camp and ending with a 20 hour day finishing the last of our pages. Some say one must be crazy to do a 228-page publication about such an infinitely diverse and complex school but Eugene, Chris, Henry, Cameron, and I have made it out sane and better men. Yearbook is one of the best experiences I've ever been through, it has taught me a lot about myself, and I am now a better man. I'm too tired to continue but I must and will finish this Journey.



Thank God for organizing these great people together because before Yearbook camp we did not know we would be working together. It has been a long 7-month Journey and it has ended with a massive pile of pages to do. I made this Editors' page Layout so if you wondered if I didn't thank you turn to page 175 and read.



Chris Talusan

3:10 done. To quote from Homer Simpson "Woo Hoo!" Yearbook is finally over, it took 7 long months. At the beginning I thought it would be so easy. I was wrong. It's been great fun, there are so many memories in this little room. I'd like to thank my fellow editors for completing a good book. Henry, thanks for the logistics of the book as Eugene says. Eugene, thanx for keeping my work in check, and the "burns."(sniff) Albert we stuck together through it all, thanx for the intelligence when none of us had any. Carlo thanks for the laughs, pictures, and making sure we didn't live in our own filth. Thanks to Cam(where? where?) for all the fun, Justin, Nathan, and James(Hey James!) for helping out when we needed that helping hand. I'd like to also thank the photographers and the drawers, and all the support staff for everything. Thanks Mrs. George for the use of your cramped room so that we wouldn't be bored in our cramped room. Thanks to my family and friends(Angela) for understanding how busy I was with yearbook. It's been great this year, I'll never forget being a part of the Yearbook Crew of 2002. I'll miss our small cramped room. Finally I'd like to thank God, through the roughest times we've learned we're never alone.

Oh, just a tiny note to the Yearbook Crew of 2003. Good luck, see if you can figure out what's wrong with our book. I know you will when you look it over many many times, when you are trying to think of ideas. Being an editor was tough, but quite a rewarding experience.

"There is no such thing as 'what if', stick by what you decide, no regrets.."

If I have learnt anything from my experience with the Collegian, I would have to say, "Bad things happen to good people". I look here at my fellow editors and I my conscience questions, "What have these good people done to deserve the responsibility of such a massive undertaking"? We walked in here knowing nothing, and that was our first mistake. Nonetheless, I have to thank the yearbook guys for the experience of a lifetime, preparing endless pages for submission to a merciless journalistic production group. After endless hours of preparing pages in the stuffiest room in the entire world, I come to realize how much I appreciate the friendship and work that we've shared. I'd like to thank my fellow editors, who suffered much more than I did, as well as the Ms. Zapala for her support through the year. Thanks to my mom and dad who have always cohersed me into joining everything and anything (ie. yearbook, Chinese school, daycare, a mono gender school). Oh, and thanks to Cherie for being a friend worth relying on. Through my neediest times, you always managed to ignore my whining, and push me back to my books. When I was young, I was petrified... but now that I've made a yearbook, I no longer fear death. Thank you God for making me a copy editor. Now I can spel much "gooder!" Good luck to the Yearbook Crew of 2003, I wish you the best of luck in your endeavor. Goodbye to everyone who has read this page in the yearbook, I truly hope you enjoyed reading our Collegian, because we surely enjoyed producing it for you.

Time: 3:05am
Date: Friday March 15, 2002
Mission: To stay awake

It's 3:05 am on a Friday Morning. I am once again trapped in a room detrimental to the claustrophobic. It is cold and the air is stale. God, am I to be here in this room forever? God, in his infinite power, created the world in a mere 7 days. Unfortunately, I'm not God, and the construction of this yearbook has reached its 7th month. Almost finished, but barely started, I'm beginning to lose my mind. (Wait I'm already losing my mind) Anyways thanks to my buddies in the yearbook room, helping me to keep my sanity through this entire year. I am grateful to you all for your perseverance with our special project. One last note, never depend on technology. Technology fails and will never be trust worthy. Well the end is here and this chapter is over, it is my turn to sleep...zzzZZzzzZZzzz

Wait Wait! Before I drown in my tiredness, I would like to once again thank the entire yearbook crew of 2002! We started as the 5 ..... we end now with the same 5. We accomplished a lot these 7 months, thanks for the jokes, laughter, talks, insults etc. We made it through! Final thought before I leave this place as a better man I have learned that you have to "live and learn [cuz] life is a lesson" "DOH!" =]

Time spent in the yearbook room has given me so much wisdom. I have learned so many things about working as a team, getting things done for deadlines, and all the stress that comes with big responsibilities. Yeah Right! None of these things ever happened to me!!! The writing aspect of yearbook was a cool experience. I was slapped with write ups to look after, make new write ups, and correct the write ups of so many other people. Being on yearbook has been a blast thanks to so many people. AY, CC, CT, HC, EC, CW, JD, and so many others. Without you guys, yearbook would never be the same. Don't stress too much guys, we got this far, now we let's finish the job. "Anybody want me to read anything?" My time here at VC was the best. Yearbook helped contribute to my experiences and has made it an even more memorable one. Without the help of family, friends, and teachers, who knows where I would be today. I owe everything to my family. They have always stuck by me whenever I needed them, especially my brother, Jonathan. To my friends and teachers I thank them for never giving up on me and for being so welcoming and so determined to see me succeed. "My life is shaped by those who encounter me and by the people I encounter".

If I were to tell you that being a photographer was fun.... Then you must be out of your mind. This yearbook many of our photographers ran into many different challenges. With the sad departure of our old friend the "Nikon Cool Pix 950" our photographers had to return to our old methods. Being a modern yearbook we depend on digital photography but when the yearbook's only digital camera broke the photographers were faced with a challenge. The use of film and conventional cameras was both a curse and a blessing. It was certainly easier to take pictures with, especially action shots but it takes time to develop film. With the many actively participating youths at V.C. the photographers had to organize the pictures for all the organizations and sports teams. We are happy to be a part of Yearbook and are proud to have taken pictures for "The Collegian '02. Also, thank you to the editors for keeping us on task.

PEP BAND

VC BAND

Senior Jazz Bands are two of the many different band programs at VC. Band ranging from 7,8,9 Concert Band and Senior Jazz band. The Jazz band is one of the best programs VC has to offer. There is the Senior Jazz Band 2 and the Senior Jazz Band 1. The Senior Jazz Band 1 is the higher of the two. Talented musicians who play the Sax, Trombone, Trumpet, Guitar, Drums and more are able to show their talents at concerts and festivals. Dedicated Jazz Band 1 musicians wake up early on Monday and Thursday mornings practicing for upcoming concerts and festival. The most exciting part about this year's band program is the trip to Calgary, one of the largest festivals in Canada. Here our Vancouver College students are able to show their creativity and compete with many different schools across North America. Music Fest Canada is a great experience for our young musical talented musicians. This is the greatest accomplishment in our Vancouver College band history.

The sound of music is alive and kicking at VC. Rather than the jazzy tunes of the jazz bands though, they are replaced with more contemporary classical style music. The members of this band are devoted, as they wake up early every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday. They practice quite hard to attain a good sound. Every member produces a unique but harmonizing sound making the band appear like a choir of angels. It is quite a beautiful site to hear. If you pass by the windows beneath the band room during an early morning you can hear the students hard at work. Perfection is a must, every minuet detail in the song must be attended to. This is done by are hard working band director Mr. Larry Olson, for without him the band would be nothing. It is him who makes sure the band sounds in good order, from tuning to the low E on a trombone, to the highest C on the trumpet. The music which is played is from a variety of inspirations, from a American Folk songs to gongs from the orient. It is truly an experience to be part of the Vancouver College Concert Band, from the small flute to the large tuba.

Look at him go... Faster than light!

Whew! We've made it through garbage, paper cuts, and bottles. From paper collecting to can sorting, Enviroment Club was a blast! Led by Miss Stephanie Olsen, Enviroment Club is made of energetic Grade Seven Students who do this worthwhile community service, free of charge! (except for lollipops, pizza parties and feild tips, as a reward for our heard work.)

Sorting Cans isn't exactly fun, because you may get a glove full of pop, or you may get sprayed with the hose from some of our fellow mischeif makers. We work hard doing this job, so show some respect to the guys wearing yellow gloves!

After school, the Enviroment Club goes paper recycling. This is really fun, because we get to see all the classrooms, (maybe get some hints on upcoming test) and at the end , lollipops of all kinds are on the house! This year, we suffered from and abundance of paper cuts and this summer, we figure to be slouching from osteoperosis! This happened because we finally found out that paper is heavy, the hard way!

So with a little forewarning to our followers, we say "Thank goodness we're done!"

Duke of Edinburgh

Paul Parungao, Anthony Jewitt, Paul Lopatka, Mark Chaiyakul
Organizer: Mr. Jacobson

The members of this year's Duke of Edinburgh have found the program to be beneficial and rewarding. Through personal achievement, community service and outdoor activities, the boys have displayed their ability to accomplish and develop. The Duke of Edinburgh has been a part of the Vancouver College community for many years, and will continue to be here for years to come. Through fun activities such as paintballing and hiking, the program has helped people come together and have a great time. The Duke of Edinburgh is currently organizing an outdoor excursion, and will continue to do this for future willing participants.

Peer Tutoring

This year the peer tutoring club has been largely successful, taking place on Mondays and Thursdays, a step above how the peer tutoring club ran last year. With the help of Ms. Misley and Ms. Prins, Vancouver College's peer-tutoring club has been functioning smoothly for the past few years. The willingness to teach or to volunteer to help others in the school community shows the outstanding work of the members of the Peer tutoring club. Tutors have worked hard to assist their fellow schoolmates in their homework and studies. Joining the club also means meeting a new friend, whether he is younger or older. The enjoyment of seeing friends succeed and raise standards is a reward in itself. Just like the tutees, the tutors are also engaged in a learning experience each session. The idea of helping younger people gets tutors in touch with their inner child, and makes them remember the days when they were young. The peer tutoring club is a great achievement at Vancouver College.

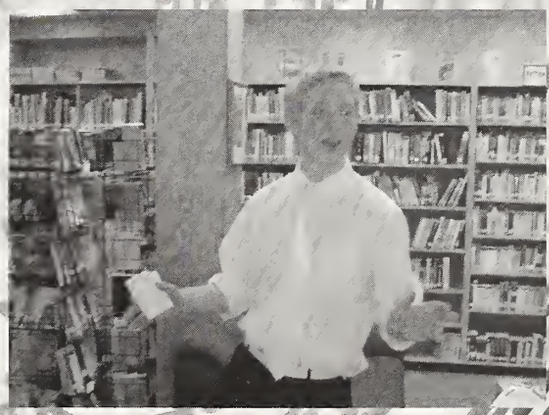
Teacher: Mrs. Field

Despite being less experienced than other schools, the Vancouver College Speech and Debate Club, stood tall infront of the competition. This year was very successful due to guidance of Mrs. Anne Field. Although competition was scarce, due to strikes and other difficulties, each member of the team still improved dramatically as speakers, and as leaders. Through Speech and Debate, we developed the confidence to orate artfully, maintaining the Fighting Irish Spirit.



PRO-LIFE CLUB

Anthony Aldaba, Andy Roy, Patrick Smith, Tim Tejuco, Paul Lopatka, Miguel Festejo, Steven Le, Gary Leung, Mr. Canil

Thanks to the excellent leadership of Jim Canil, Vancouver College Pro-life more prominent in the school. We have done many works around the school such as the annual Life Chain and selling 50/50 tickets. This year we privileged to host the annual Pro-life awareness Conference for youth. Though we have not grown any larger we have made our presence know and we hope next year to do better than we have this year. We will strive to defend the defenseless.

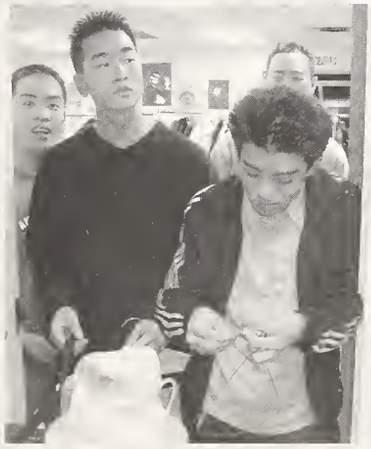
The Dance committee has again had a successful year putting together the well-renowned dances of Vancouver College. The organization and intense planning of the group has amounted in various successful dances, including "October 26 / 2", "Change of Heart", and the introduction of the new Middle School Dance. Despite new regulations for dance dress code and entry, the Dance Committee has been able to maintain the standard of excellence associated with Vancouver College social gatherings. The hard work of each individual has not gone unnoticed and has resulted in dances worthy of memory for present and leaving students.



Grad Committee

Graduating from high school only happens once in our lifetime; that is why the Grad Committee is committed to bring the Grads of 2002 a year that they will never forget. Standing tall behind the Grad Committee is Mr. Corbett, who is the coordinator of the Grad Committee. Under his leadership, the Grad Committee strives to bring the most memorable year for all the Grade 12's. The Grad Committee has various projects such as the grad gift, the grad slideshow and other miscellaneous grad events. In order to raise the money needed for the grad gift, the Grad Committee worked on various fundraising events such as the Bottle Drive. The Bottle Drive Project, invented by Andrew W. Wong, is designed to raise money for the costs of the grad gift of 2002; much time and effort is put in by the Grad Committee members, parent volunteers, VC Staff and the Grade 12 volunteers. A brilliant plan that did not come to reality was the Grad Cruise Project planned by Stephen Tsuen. Although the project did not prove to be successful, it goes to show how hard the Grad Committee tries to provide the Grads with special events for their special year. Another big project for the Grad Committee is the Grad Slideshow; Andrew W. Wong and Stephen Tsuen started as early as November to get baby picture from Grads to be put into the slideshow. Justin Lau with his good background in media arts quarterbacks the production of the Grad Slideshow. Although the endless hours spent on the forty-five minute video will probably go unnoticed, the joy and togetherness of the Graduating Class will certainly thank the Grad Committee greatly. The Grad Committee hopes that they have made this last year for the Grads of 2002 their best one ever and that the memories of their final high school year will always be in their hearts. Best of luck to the Grad Committee of 2003.

The language of mathematics comes as a second nature to these bright and talented students. Under the impeccable guidance of their teacher, Mr. Freire, students competed in various competitions, testing their advanced skills in mathematics. Overall results from these contests, such as the American Mathematics Competition (AMC's) and the Pascal, Cayley, Fermat and Euclid Contests, have been more than pleasing. Included in this group of future scientists and engineers is Grade 12 student, Justin Lau. He ranked as the top student at VC after competing in the Pascal Contest (Grade 9), the Cayley and AMC Contests (Grade 10), and the Fermat Contest (Grade 11). Justin was also invited to the Invitation Mathematics Challenge (IMC 11), a competition open only to the top 200 students in Canada who wrote the Fermat Contest in Grade 11. The dedication and hard work that these students put into their studies can sometimes be inconceivable. Exploring the complex, yet thrilling world of mathematics is a passion for some of these young men. Their talents are an example of the kinds of gifts that students from Vancouver College bring into the world today.

Profiles

Special Events

Throughout the course of the year, the body and soul of the Vancouver College community joins together as a sign of unity and commitment. We have many many functions and occasions that are filled with memories and unforgettable times. Our special events vary from school dances, and Remembrance Day to Grads and Dads, and the Encounter program. Special events are a way of bringing the strongly bonded community of Vancouver College together. They play a significant role in the lives of students, parents, and teachers that help our community grow. They help us mourn over the sorrows of the year. They allow students to display their talents, by participating at SOC, participating in liturgies, chewing at pep rallies, or even by donating time to help prepare for the events. One can honestly say that special events are what help students to drive through their academic years in the past, present, and in the future.

open house

The Open House is an annual event that introduces potential new students and families to Fairfax High School, gives fellow students and teachers to show their wonderful work they have done throughout the year. Each of the departments of the school owns an display showing their most impressive work. The principal and three students from the parent association describes the school to the prospective students and their parents. Teachers, parents, and students volunteer to help make this years Open House a success.

Remembrance Day

Every year Vancouver College remembers the members of the Canadian forces who have fallen in battle. This year it was especially meaningful because of the September 11th World Trade Centre incident. The school spent an extra day in October to remember the need for peace in this world. Rememberance Day is always significant because students of Vancouver College have fought and fallen for Canada in various wars.

DANCES

Dances are times when the student body can take a break from studying and enjoy a night of pure energy. Students from grades nine to twelve are encouraged to come to the dances and socialize with one another.

[illegible] are from the first dance, Oct. 26/2[illegible], [illegible] dance, Change of heart. Check out [illegible]

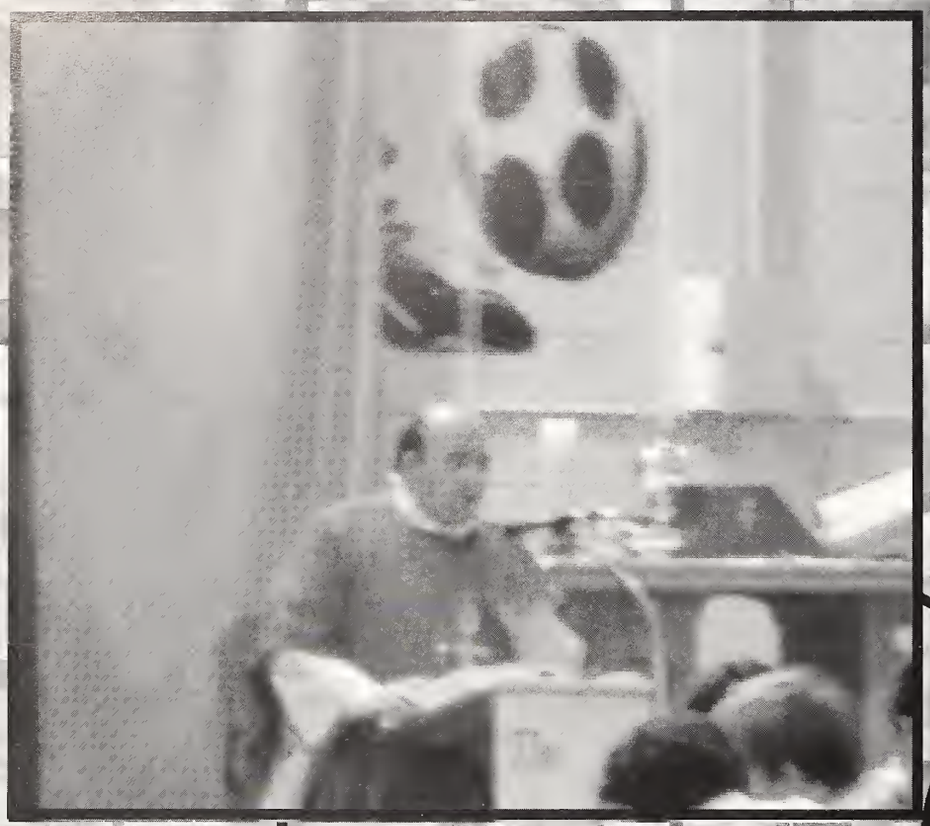
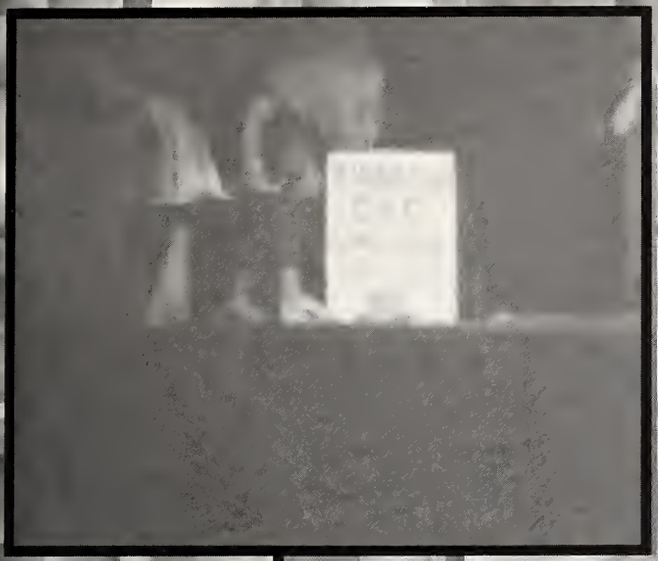
Liturgies

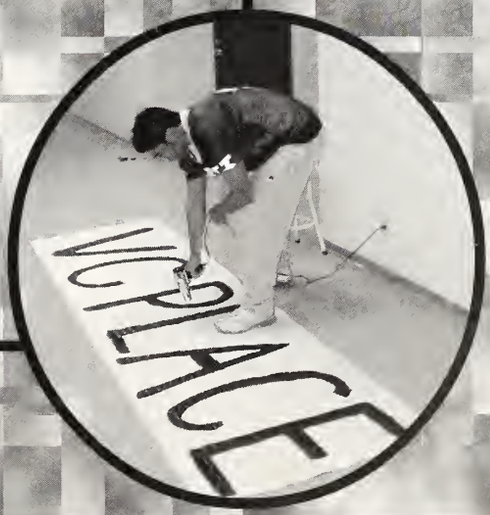


As a faith and learning community at Vancouver College, we gather year round on many special occasions to worship and celebrate our faith. The Liturgies are the result of many student efforts, the Edmundians, the Choir and the Band and others who commit their timeO to helping. We would expecially like to thank Rev. Fr. Horgan and the other celebrants at the V.C. masses.

pep rally



School spirit is displayed at Vancouver College Pep Rallies. The student body gathers in the gym to support its various sports teams. This pep rally was organized by the grade 12 students on the football team. Their creativity and hard work produced one of the best pep rallies the school has ever seen. FIGHT IRISH FIGHT!



Elementary Ch

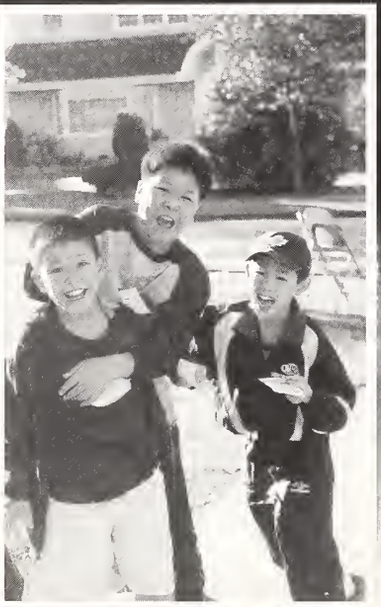
The Elementary Christmas Concert is an annual attended by parents, teachers, relatives, and alumni. It is a production of hard work and organization which begins near the end of the previous school year. All classes in the Elementary school participate in the hour long musical. Not all of the students participate as actors or singers but some spend time and effort backstage. The voices are incredible and the maturity of the student actors and singers exceptional. This Concert is a creation of Mrs. Olson and many other teachers who help in directing, music, and set construction. It is also a wonderful way to see what wonderful work the Elemetary students at Vancouver College produce.

stmas Concert

Walk-a-thon

The walkathon is a time when the whole school community comes together to support the school. The elementary students enjoy a walk around the track accompanied by a senior students, while the other grades enjoy the ten kilometers hike around Queen Elizabeth Park. Once all the grades have successfully completed the uncanny walk, they excitedly line up to grab a free bite to eat, enjoying music and socializing with their peers. This year's theme for the walkathon is "Light, Sound, Action!" The goal is to upgrade the lighting and the sound system in the gym. The much-needed upgrades to the gym are a big blessing all thanks to the walkathon.

Fun is the sun for all ages! ^_^



Top: Walk or run it does not matter as long as it gets done.

Mother's Christmas Coffee Party

The annual Mother's Christmas party again proved to be a major success. Mothers were given the chance to come to the school on a completely social level enjoying beverages and snacks, while purchasing many goodies. The silent auction was once again filled with many interesting items such as ginger bread houses to cakes. Also the Mothers were entertained by festive songs presented by the elementary students.

Top Right: Ho Ho Merry Christmas to all

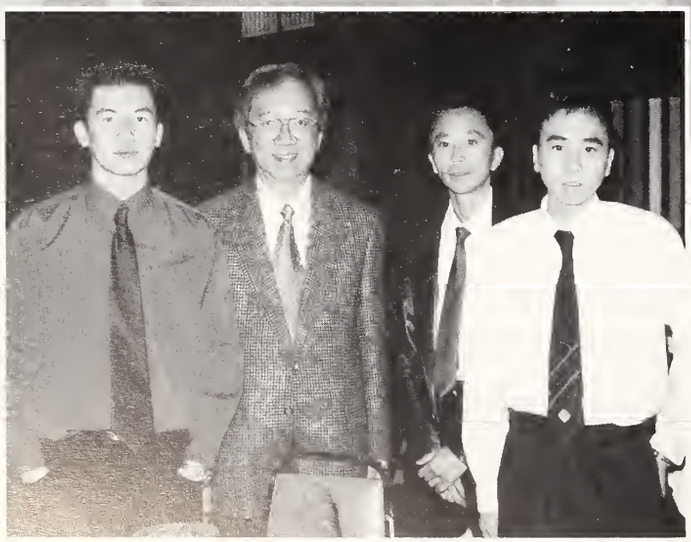
Grads and Dads

The first formal graduate event is Grads and Dads. Every year we celebrate our mothers during the month of May but the graduate class celebrates their fathers with Grads and Dads. Not only do the students get to know their fathers better, but also they meet the coordinators for the graduation ceremonies. The students' fathers, teachers, brothers and other family members including mothers attend the dinner. Students get to know each other as well as the fathers of their friends. This year the dinner was delicious and we all had an exciting evening.



Finnegan Ball

The Finnegan Ball is an annual event hosted by the Parents Association with the help of the Lettermen's Association. Funds raised during this event go towards our school. This year the Finnegan Ball was a heavenly success with a silent auction, raffle, and a 50/50 draw. This year's theme was Angel's Heavenly Ball and it was a truly angelic event. This year the organizers brought the Wall Centre Hotel to a paradise of enjoyment for all those who attended this grand event. It was an entertaining evening attended by parents, students, and other spectacular supporters of our school community. Many thanks to the volunteers from the Parents Association and the Lettermen's Association.
